Certus adds to Florida market with the acquisition of Gulf Stream Termite & Environmental Services

Certus expands further into south Florida with the acquisition of Gulf Stream Termite & Environmental Services. Founded in 1979, Gulf Stream has serviced West Palm Beach and surrounding communities for over four decades.

As an entomologist, owner Jeff Freebold, ACE has built his business with strong technical knowledge and a commitment to superior service through Integrated Pest Management. He commented “I wanted to make certain I transitioned my employees and customers to a company that takes the same technical, professional approach that I have over the years. I’m confident that both will be in good hands with the team at Certus. ”

Mike Givlin, CEO and co-founder of Certus, commented “I’m delighted to have Gulf Stream join our South Florida team. Jeff has built a business on superior service and expertise, making it a great fit for Certus.”
