

CERTUS PEST GROWS LAS VEGAS PRESENCE

Partnership with Green Wave Pest Control Strengthens Coverage in Greater Las Vegas

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LAS VEGAS (December 19, 2024) — CERTUS Pest (CERTUS) has acquired Green Wave Pest Solutions (Green Wave), a pest control company serving greater Las Vegas. Green Wave will now operate under CERTUS' established Las Vegas Pest Control (LVPC) brand, and its customers will benefit from access to a wider range of services, such as termite control and prevention. This move strengthens CERTUS' presence in Nevada's largest city by increasing LVPC's reach.

“We are excited to join forces with a leading pest control company like Certus,” said Michael Leobold, one of Green Wave's founding partners. “This partnership allows us to continue serving Las Vegas with the exceptional service they've become accustomed to while offering customers additional pest solutions than before.”

CERTUS identifies and partners with established, customer-centric companies to deliver top-notch pest control solutions nationwide. While Green Wave has two branches, one in South Florida and the other in Las Vegas, CERTUS has only acquired the latter. This acquisition aligns with CERTUS' strategic development plan for the southwestern U.S. region, including its rapidly growing presence in the Las Vegas metropolitan area.

“The southern Nevada area has been in great hands through Las Vegas Pest Control, and now it's only getting stronger,” said David Joles, chief operating officer of CERTUS Pest. “By adding the expertise and experience that the Green Wave Pest Solutions team has, CERTUS will be an even more dynamic force in Las Vegas. Our customers will love it, but the pests will certainly not.”
